

Everything you need to know about an Occupational Therapist Assessment

What is an Occupational Therapist?

An Occupational Therapist is someone who helps assess and improve your ability to do everyday tasks if you are having difficulty with them.

How to find a private Occupational Therapist?

At GB Electrical and Building Services we offer a private Occupational Therapist through our affiliate therapist: info@gbhereford.co.uk

You can also look for an independent private Occupational Therapist: rcotss-ip.org.uk/find

How to you get an Occupational Therapist assessment?

You can enquire about getting an assessment with an Occupational Therapist through your local social services. It is also possible to search for a private Occupational Therapist in the independent practice directory. Or you can get in touch with GB Electrical and Building Service's who will put you touch with their affiliated Occupational Therapist.

What does an Occupational Therapist report cover?

Occupational Therapists help individuals to adapt to changes in their everyday life and overcome practical problems. From the assessment they are able to provide advice on how daily tasks can be done differently or by recommending equipment or alterations to your home.

What do Occupational Therapists help with?

Occupational Therapists are healthcare professions who specialise in helping people go through physical changes and help them find ways to resume or maintain their independence in their jobs, social activities, mobility and caring for themselves within their own homes.

Free Occupational Therapist report

At GB Electrical & Building Services we are happy to absorb the cost of the Occupational Therapist report which has been assembled by our affiliated Occupational Therapist when large scale building works have been confirmed with us.

Are Occupational Therapists required to be registered?

Occupational Therapists have to be registered with the Health and Care Professions Council in order to use the title and be employed as an Occupational Therapist.

Occupational Therapist Herefordshire

At GB Electrical & Building Services we work with our affiliate Occupational Therapist and cover the Herefordshire, Powys, Gloucestershire, Worcestershire, Monmouthshire, Shropshire and surrounding areas.
